Workshop

Ateliers Zelij was founded by Delphine Laporte & Samir Mazer in the late 90s to bring a culture to life and reinvent it through the Moroccan zellige. Their sensitivity and their training as industrial designers led them to other materials such as cement tiles and, lately, stone and terrazzo

Samir Mazer, is a Franco-Moroccan sculptor and designer based between Toulouse & Fes. Working in ceramics for three decades, he has made the material his means of expression.

He undertook a quest, digging, digging, shaping this material that animates him; the traditional Moroccan zellige. In a desire to extend the history of this millenary art, he reexamines it with a deeply sensitive eye and at different scales. Indeed, while the zellige is a visual and spiritual art, Samir Mazer the hue of an unprecedented sensory sensitivity

For more than 20 years, through the brand Ateliers Zelij that he co-founded, he has been putting his artistic and surface designer's eyes at the service of interior architects to create surface coverings to dress and inhabit space.
